Distracted and Delayed by Baggage

On May 7, Bill McGee wrote in a USA Today article about the crashed Aeroflot plane that killed 41 of the passengers onboard: "Reports from people on the plane indicate the evacuation may have been slowed by passengers grabbing their bags. Videos show passengers taking their carry-on bags with them as they exited the plane," the AFA said in a statement. "We will never know if more lives could have been saved if the bags were left behind" (online edition, "Were lives lost at the cost of carry-ons in Aeroflot plane crash that killed 41?"). It's outrageous and unbelievable that people would care more for their luggage than human lives, but that appears to be the case.

In Luke 12:15, Jesus taught, "Take heed and beware of covetousness, for one's life does not consist in the abundance of the things he possesses." The NASB translates the first part of the verse, saying, "Beware, and be on your guard against every form of greed...." Watching video footage of those passengers making an emergency exit with carry-ons in hand is a rather graphic, unmistakable illustration of Jesus' point. Unfortunately, we can have a harder time seeing ourselves doing the same thing in the prioritization of our lives. We may be aghast at the thought that their seemingly greedy decision came at the expense of some people behind them being able to escape the flames, but Scripture teaches the devastating effect greed can have on our own lives and the lives of those we influence.

Paul teaches that such can be a "snare," "harmful desires," plunging men into "ruin and destruction" that pierces them "with many griefs" (1 Tim. 6:9-10). It's interesting that Paul's inspired counsel is to "flee from these things" (11). We should consider that an inordinate desire and pursuit of material things may hurt not only ourselves, but the people that come along behind us. That includes our children, grandchildren, and the other people who are guided by our influence and example. They are watching what we value most and what has our greatest attention and affection. We may not be caught on camera, but God sees it with perfect, all-seeing eyes.

Let's be careful not to allow this world to cloud our judgment, making the things of this world more important than souls or the will of the Lord. The stakes are higher than whether we exit an airplane alive. It's about how we leave this world and enter the next one.
